

A diagram showing a vector field with a source (a circle with a dot) and a sink (a circle with a cross). Arrows point from the source towards the sink, representing a flow.

